

Northwind Traders Code of Conduct

1. Introduction

At Northwind Traders, we are committed to conducting our business with honesty, integrity, and respect. This Code of Conduct outlines the ethical standards and expectations for all employees, contractors, and partners.

2. Professionalism and Respect

- Inclusion: We foster an inclusive environment where diversity is celebrated. Discrimination or harassment of any kind based on race, gender, sexual orientation, religion, or age will not be tolerated.
- Respectful Communication: All communication, both internal and external, must remain professional and respectful.

3. Conflict of Interest

Employees must avoid any relationship, activity, or situation that could conflict with the interests of Northwind Traders. This includes:

- Accepting gifts from suppliers exceeding $50 in value.
- Engaging in outside employment that interferes with your duties.
- Using company resources for personal gain.

4. Confidentiality

Employees frequently have access to confidential client data and trade secrets. You must not disclose any proprietary information to external parties without explicit authorization.

5. Compliance

Violations of this Code of Conduct may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.
